

Ratna Malar Selvaratnam is the Manager, Learning Technologies and Innovation at Edith Cowan University in Western Australia. She has over 20 years of experience in higher education in Malaysia, US and Australia. At ECU, her responsibilities include implementing the university's Technology Enhanced Learning Blueprint. Her international leadership roles include appointed member of the Executive Board of the Australasian Council on Open, Distance and e-Learning (ACODE) and Associate Editor for the Pacific Journal of Technology Enhanced Learning. Ratna holds a Doctor of Education (Leicester) and is a Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy, UK.

Kate Rodgers is a veteran Educational Technologist with eighteen years experience deploying and managing learning technology systems. Currently she is the Senior Educational Technologist at Edith Cowan University. Despite its challenges, she is inspired by the global shift to online learning brought about by COVID-19 and remains optimistic about the learning Ed Tech professionals can gain from this momentous change.